Hartley District Progress Association

Next quarterly general meeting will be held in the Hartley School Hall, Mid Hartley Road, commencing 7.00 pm on Monday 6th June. All valley residents are invited.

End of the Road

Join us at our next general meeting, 7pm Monday 6th of June, to get an update on the Highway Safety Upgrade project After what feels like an eternity, we are told it is close to the end. Come and hear a representative from Seymour Whyte, the contractor behind the Highway Safety Upgrade, give us a brief on where to from here and what we will be left with at the end of the project.

New Funding from Hy-Tec

Hy-Tec Industries, the operators of the Austen Quarry on Jenolan Caves Road, have entered into a Voluntary Planning Agreement with Council whereby they will pay an ongoing rovalty to council to fund community infrastructure development in the region. Under this arrangement, the Hartley District Progress Association (HDPA) will qualify to receive up to 25% (say $6k) of the royalty received each year by Council, to fund building maintenance and enhancements. A further 25% (another $6k) will be available to fund other community bodies or the HDPA, to undertake other enhancement projects in the Hartley Valley. This boost of funding will provide outstanding support for the HDPA and the Hartley Recreational Reserve Trust to ensure the proper preservation of the Historic Hartley School and the enhancement and maintenance of the associated hall and grounds. These funds, over the 30 year term of the VPA agreement, will help compensate the Valley community for the impact that the continuation of guarry activities by Hy-Tec imposes on the Valley.

Winter Gardening

This autumn has been peculiar with unseasonably warm days, plenty of wind and not much rain. As for the garden, this has had quite the drying effect coming out of summer. It is important to plan for as much moisture retention as possible through the winter so that you can be best equipped for the upcoming spring and summer. This means mulch. If you are lucky enough to have big deciduous trees, collect the leaves and utilise this annual free gift. Other options include hay, straw, chipped branches and twigs either bought or free sourced. Remember diversity is always better. If you also have manures at hand you could do a cold compost over winter, ready to apply at the end of the year. The more moisture you retain in your soils the better your garden will be at coping with dry and hot periods ahead. Grant Maundrell Landscape Architect

Putting the

The Hartley Long Lunch

Our early April Long Lunch was a great day with over seventy seated for a wonderful spread put together by the HDPA social committee. We owe a debt of gratitude to Sharon, Jane, Sue, Susie, Toni and their respective partners for a job that professional caterers would struggle to exceed. The music, the many new faces, the conversations, the stories of new businesses starting in the valley, the new friendships formed, capped by good weather, made for a fabulous day. Our thanks go to the Lolly Bug, Adams Shed, the Hartley Saddlery, and the Zig Zag Brewery (we are going to hear a lot more about Oakey Park Ale) for their support of the raffle and Blue Mountains Special Events Hire. Our particular thanks go to Hy Tec industries the operator of the Austen Quarry who contributed $1000 to underpin the Long Lunch and other community building activities being undertaken by the HDPA in 2016.

Hampton School Trivia night

Hartley Improvement Plan

Residents who attended the last HDPA general meeting will have heard Council's conclusions drawn from the survey of Valley residents they conducted early last year as part of their Village Improvement Strategy. The number one issue nominated by residents was road improvements, surprise. surprise, which falls outside the immediate scope of the Improvement Plan Project.

In our response to council on the other findings of the survey, we have nominated television reception. enhanced performance and mobile coverage as the most critical issues for the valley. Whilst council has no direct responsibility for such services, we expect them to lend their voice to calls for action to resolve these issues.

At a more prosaic level, we have nominated a bus shelter at Banners Lane, toilets at Hyde Park and Londonderry Reserve and some picnic facilities at the latter, as worthy early action items. If you would like to review our submission to council go http://www.hartleyvalley.org.au/hartleydistrict-progress-assn/hartley-improvementplan/.

comments or suggestions appreciated. We are currently seeking a meeting with Council staff to further explore the potential of this project to add value for the Valley.

Open Garden Day

Our Autumn Open Garden at Sarah and Brendan Childs' Forty Bends Farm was enjoyed by forty or so visitors. Our thanks to the Childs for their warm welcome and the fascinating tour of their garden. Our next open garden day is scheduled for the spring. Details will be in the Spring Newsletter due out in the last week of August.

Hall Heating

A heater and static gas supply has been installed in the hall at the Hartley Historic School. A second heater will be installed shortly to make the hall comfortable on even the coldest winter night. Thanks go to lan, Seamus, Josh, Peter and Renzo as president of the Building subcommittee for their work in getting this job completed before the real winter arrives.

The Wild Dog Group

The group was formed several years ago in response to increasing stock losses from wild dog attacks in the Kanimbla Valley, Hampton and Hazelgrove areas. In more recent years, it has expanded its role to consider other pest animal species, principally feral pigs, foxes and goats.

It comprises concerned land owners and managers, who pro-actively work conjunction with the Local Land Services officers, as well as National Parks and State Forests staff to manage and limit the impact of these invasive species on our lands and livestock. The Group's main activities comprise a twice yearly (Spring and Autumn) wild dog ground baiting campaign - done in conjunction with NPWS and Forestry baiting programs, as well as trapping works undertaken by professional trappers.

A group e-mail contact list is maintained by Alan Linklater - contact mobile 0418 264 881 or cottononcreations@bigpond.com.au . We usually meet twice yearly approaching our next baiting campaign - next meeting will be in late August - and baiting in early September 2016. Greener Power

This opinion piece by one of the HDPA committee gives some insight into some of the options available to Hartley residents looking to save money and ethically choose where their power comes from.

The energy industry is undergoing massive changes, from the world scale where US carmaker giant General Motors signs on to wind power, to the local stage where everyday Australian consumers can choose how their energy is generated.

Green Guide The Electricity http://greenelectricityguide.org.au is tool that will help you to decide which retail electricity provider is right for you if you want to buy cheaper and greener. One example of the options you might find is Powershop, which is an online energy company that has excellent rankings in customer service and renewable energy use. Through the internet (or your device) you can be in control of your power usage and supply. At the click of a button you can choose from companies offering different rates, discounts and 'renewability' of your power choice.

If you want a more traditional service with a regular bill from one company it is worthwhile shopping around beyond the big three - AGL, Energy Australia & Origin Energy. Since the energy market was deregulated in July 2014, there has been an explosion of choices. Indeed there are a range of websites that allow you to compare the companies.

To offer one example we will profile Red Energy as they are owned by Snowy Hydro and a 100% Australian business. They offer a range of services like 'Evenpay' which means that your power usage is averaged and you pay the same amount each month. Through their website you can also learn about the range of concessions and rebates available to NSW residents - it's always worthwhile knowing this!

We hope this article has been a little taster into the new energy economy afforded by a deregulated NSW energy markets, the growth of green options and internet based brokering of energy use. It really is worth reviewing your power and gas bills to see how much you can save your back pocket and the environment.
