

Figure 3.11 A view of a flourishing Victoria Inn at Little Hartley by Conrad Martens, established by former overseer “Brummy” John Skeen and his wife (nee Collit) in the 1830s. [Dixson Galleries, State Library of NSW]

Figure 3.12 In this view of convicts on the Western Road working on Mitchell's Pass to the Pilgrim Inn, the eastern ascent of the mountains near Emu, the soldiers can be seen on sentry, guarding, but not interacting with the convicts. The overseer on the left is giving instructions. [View taken on Mitchell's Pass to the Pilgrim Inn Dec5, 1832, Anon. Mitchell Library, State Library of NSW]